B. WHAT WE KNOW
NECROSOCIETY - INTERNAL

DRUGS. DEA surveillance reports daily use of industrial-grade methamphetamine and fentanyl-type drugs. He rarely sleeps. Their reports describe constant drug-induced psychosis. The suit and the mask hide his face and keep the fumes of his laboratories out.

TRAFFIC. Their reporting puts him in the network that runs from the Mexican cartels to distribution in Atlanta. He handles chemical supply and synthesis for the Iraq-a-Holics. They estimate more than 50 kilograms of methamphetamine a month through the Georgia corridor and list him as a known associate of major trafficking organizations.

SPEECH. Very hard to follow: languages mixed together with phrases that mean nothing to anyone outside. FBI linguists have not decoded his calls. Only the people closest to him understand him.

WEAPONS. Owns a great many and shoots badly: tremors and poor control of his hands. He makes up for it with the number of rounds fired. Their reporting blames him for several civilian casualties from careless fire during drug-fuelled episodes.

WITH US. Chemistry and drug money for operations. The services say his laboratory makes chemical agents as well as narcotics. We have not seen what they base that on.
